Reading List

Field Guides

Southern Africa has the usual abundance of field guides. The five listed below I have browsed or used and enjoyed. But there are others you may want to consider. The Sasol Guide to the Birds of Southern Africa is the standard bird guide. I believe the Princeton Guide is identical.

- Sasol Guide to the Birds of Southern Africa - Ian Sinclair et al.
- Princeton Guide to the Birds of Southern Africa - Ian Sinclair et al.
- Birds of Botswana - Peter Hancock and Ingrid Weiersbye
- Wildlife of Southern Africa - Martin B. Withers and David Hesking
- A Field Guide to the Plants of Northern Botswana - Allison and Roger Heath

Other Books

There is a great variety of non-fiction and literature about Africa and Southern Africa in particular. The books below are a starting point, and please feel free to share any other titles you find that may be of interest to the group!

- The Tree Where Man Was Born - Peter Mathiessen
- Whatever You Do, Don't Run - Peter Allison
- A Geologist's Memoir of the Kalahari - Christopher Schulz
- Twenty Chickens for a Saddle - Robyn Scott
- Into Africa - Craig Packer
- The Number One Ladies Detective Agency Series - Alexander McCall Smith
